
CHANELLE MCCOY

Irish Entrepreneur, Co-founder of Chanelle Medical

LONDON
SPEAKER
BUREAU

Chanelle, Lady McCoy recently ranked no 23 in the '50 incredible people shaping modern Ireland'. She co-founded Chanelle Medical, part of the multi-million pound global company Chanelle Pharmaceutical Group based in Galway. Chanelle is the newest dragon on the TV series Dragon's Den in Ireland and is also married to horseracing legend Sir AP McCoy.

Chanelle Medical & Chanelle Veterinary develop and manufacture generic (copycat) drugs, holding more than 1,500 medical product licenses in over 80 countries. They have won many awards, including Exporter of the Year 2016, Life Sciences Exporter of the Year 2016, Export Innovation of the Year 2016, Winner of 'Project of the Year' at the Pharma Industry Awards 2016 and the Ulster Bank Business Achievers Award 2015.

Topics

- Business
- Leadership
- Management
- Motivation
- Motivational
- Women

The business is now Ireland's largest Pharmaceutical Company, where Chanelle is responsible for over 400 people and turning-over in excess of €100m. She is also a huge supporter of women in business and mentoring young entrepreneurs. H

Having been recognised as a successful businesswoman in her own right, Chanelle joined Dragons Den in Ireland earlier this year. She enjoys sharing her experience of scaling up a business and taking it to global markets as well as giving opportunities to entrepreneurs who are the future of industries. Chanelle co-presents for other TV stations such as the BBC, and is also an Ambassador for a number of race days and for the charity Tiny Tickers.

Chanelle's love for business has also seen her branch out into the fashion industry. In 2014 Chanelle and 5 partners opened the doors of Mojo & McCoy, a successful boutique in Berkshire.