Over three decades of tangible experience in healthcare innovation, his incredible global network combined with his state-of-the-art graphics, humor, and thought-provoking vision will support the needed change in your organization.

In his lectures, keynotes, masterclasses, multiple TED-talks and brainstorming sessions Lucien Engelen is combining his knowledge and networks by always being challenging, sometimes being provocative but always staying techno-realistic. With over 750 given keynotes, lectures and c-level sessions his goal is to prepare for a soft landing into the future, meanwhile creating sustainable global healthcare for all.

Lucien works at the intersection of innovation and strategy and advises boards, c-level, governments, companies and professionals. His advice focuses on how to initiate and create a sustainable change.

Lucien Engelen is CEO of Transform.Health and a Global Keynote Speaker. He is a Strategist Health(care) Innovation for Center for the Edge Deloitte (Global, independent, not employed, non-commercial), Erasmus University Medical Center (Rotterdam), Laurentius Medical Center (Roermond), is core faculty at Singularity University, Exponential Medicine (Silicon Valley USA, since 2011). HIMSS (Chicago USA). He is also one of the three core digital co-hosts of the yearly HIMSS conference (Las Vegas/Orlando with 40K visitors)

As the former founder and director of the REshape Center at the Radboud University Medical Center and advisor to the Board of Directors (2007-2018), Lucien has extensive healthcare experience. Thanks to his practical, bold and often rebels approach, he was able to identify and implement necessary changes in a sector that, of course, is bound by many rules. Before that, Lucien had a career in acute care. Over the past three decades, it has brought him to the forefront of healthcare innovation (inter)nationally.

He was invited by LinkedIn to become one of the first 100 official LinkedIn Influencers, now with over 800.000 followers and more than 150.000 people subscribed to his newsletter.

His presentations are about: creating a sustainable culture for innovation, change management, the future of healthcare, the future of work, digitization, technology, health and healthcare.
