
NOZI KUBEKA

CEO of Zon Communications, an author of inspirational books, a professional speaker and a businesswoman

LONDON
SPEAKER
BUREAU

Topics

- Business
- Leadership
- Management
- Motivation

Nozi Kubeka is the CEO of Zon Communications, an author of inspirational books, a professional speaker and a businesswoman. She holds an Honours degree in the Bachelor of Social Sciences in Social Work from University of Cape Town; Bachelor of Arts in Social Work from Wits University; and a Training Diploma from Damelin. Nozi worked as a qualified Social Worker, then moved into the Human Resources field where she worked for various corporate companies. She later started her own interior decorating company and managed her own recruitment agency while raising her three children. Prior to getting into book publishing and public speaking business Nozi has also worked in the past as a TV presenter and a researcher for the University of Cape Town. She presented her research paper on Rotating Credit Associations at Oxford University in the UK.

Nozi has regular reviews and talks on Radio programs with various Radio stations. She has also been featured on various TV programs inspiring viewers with her story and inspirational messages. Nozi speaks in corporate organisations and other institutions like schools, women organisations, youth groups, churches etc. She is a passionate and engaging speaker who challenges her audience to “give birth” to their dreams and excel in their chosen field of work and in everything else that they do in life.